

After the crisis, a push forward for the eurozone

22 September 2017

Cercle d'Economia, Carrer de Provença, 298, 08008 Barcelona

A joint initiative of CIDOB, EuropeG and Cercle d'Economia with the support of the Europe for Citizens Programme

Leaving the crisis behind opens up a new era for the European Union and one of its main tasks is to consolidate the eurozone. This is a complex goal since there is a need to converge towards more fiscal and financial integration while EU citizens are increasingly reclaiming a social agenda.

This ambitious process must move forward while the Union is confronting other complex challenges. Sorting out the Brexit negotiations; facing euroscepticism among its citizens; and consolidating the two-speed Europe amidst of the East-West divide are just a few.

In order to address this challenge, CIDOB, EuropeG and Cercle d'Economia, all of them institutions committed to the European project, have organised the workshop After the crisis, a push forward for the eurozone.

11.00 Welcome remarks and keynote speech

Juan José Brugera, President, Cercle d'Economia

Enrico Letta, President, Jacques Delors Institute; Dean, Paris School of International Affairs (PSIA), Sciences Po Paris; former Prime Minister of Italy

12.00 Round table discussion

Jordi Bacaria, Director, CIDOB

Antoni Castells, Director, EuropeG

Eulàlia Rubio, Senior Researcher, Jacques Delors Institute

Moderated by: Xavier Vidal-Folch, Journalist

Translation will be provided