CONTENT

"Citoyens 60" magazine from 1959 until now (now entitled "Citizens, Political, Philosophical and Spiritual Education Books").

It is a pedagogical magazine which gives political and economic comprehension about the World that surrounds the readers. According to its directors, "This magazine's managers are animated by a spirit claiming to be at the service of Mankind, of each human being and of all human beings. Each issue deals with internal and external French politics, geopolitics and economy in a pedagogical fashion, linking it to current matters." Various articles deal with the European construction, but rarely those by "Roger Jacques". At that time, he wrote more about the economy, as well as Franco-African relations.
